Strategy Overview

This allocation strategy is designed for a low-risk tolerance and a long-term investment horizon of 10 years. It aims to balance growth potential and stability by investing in a mix of equity and debt instruments. The high allocation to large-cap equity provides stability while mid-cap equity offers growth potential. Debt instruments provide consistent returns with lower risk. Gold acts as a hedge against inflation and market fluctuations. Quarterly rebalancing ensures alignment with the risk tolerance and market conditions over time.
